The Debate with Santa Ana—Land Show Visited—Sports DEBATE.

The debate last Friday evening was the final contest in the second series of simultaneous debates and as previously announced was between the Glendale and Santa Ana teams on the question, "Resolved, That Italy was Justified in Her Recent Action Toward Tripoli," the affirmative being taken (in all cases) by the home team. Glendale was represented in the contest at Glendale by Alex McElroy and Ellis Tipton and at Santa Ana by Harold Story and Marie Schwartz. The two first named champions met Miss Sophie Hardy and Carson Smith and although the judges decided in favor of the visitors, the contest was a close one and the Glendale debaters came off with honors. In Santa Ana the result was about the same, the Glendale team being vanquished by an exceptionally able pair of opponents, while doing excellent work themselves. At the latter place the Glendale visitors were treated with great courtesy, given an automobile ride and a lunch at the "Dragon." In this respect, however, honors were even, for the Santa Ana visitors were entertained with luncheon spread at the school previous to the debate.

The classical conference of Southern California was held at Los Angeles high school on Saturday, March 16. One of the most interesting parts of the program was a lecture given by Miss Ethel Hume Flood, head of the Latin department in our high school, on "How to Vitalize the Classics."

Friday, March 15, school closed for the day at noon to allow the pupils to attend the Land Show at Fiesta Park. Many students took advantage of the opportunity to see the interesting and instructive exhibits and to hear the good music. A round trip fare of fifteen cents was allowed by the Pacific Electric and the admission to the show was ten cents. Although the pleasure of the show was somewhat marred by the great crowd of school children present, the pupils all appreciated the outing and the opportunity afforded of seeing the great display.

NOTICE

The baseball team of the G. U. M. S. has planned to give an entertainment next Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m. in the high school auditorium. The concert will be given by a group of noted Hawaiian singers and the songs promise to give much enjoyment. The proceeds will be used for buying suits for the team. Everybody is invited to come and bring twenty-five cents to help in the cause.

The Julius Kranz Concert, which was given last Saturday, March 16, was a grand success. It was attended by a large audience and everyone seemed to appreciate Julius Kranz's splendid work.

This Saturday Glendale meets the Manual Arts tennis team on the home courts. The Manual Arts team has been showing up well and will probably give the home team a hard run. The match will start at 9:30.

The match between Glendale and Pasadena for last Saturday was called off.

The Juniors are rejoicing over the fact that the interclass championship in baseball was captured by them March 18th. This entitled them to having their class numerals placed upon the Interclass Championship banner hanging in the auditorium.

Glendale High's baseball team met South Pasadena in the first league game on the home grounds Saturday, March 16th. Glendale won with a score of 8 to 4.

The spring vacation and the end of the third term are rapidly approaching. School will be closed for the week beginning with Monday, April 1.

The tests for the end of the quarter will be finished before vacation, but the report cards will not be given out until after vacation.

HONORARY EASTER PARTY.

In honor of Miss Abbie Farrow of Boston, the charming young house guest of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Pierce of Ninth street, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam of 148 Kenwood street entertained at her home with a delightfully arranged Easter party. The receiving rooms were made beautiful with a profusion of jonquils, white lilies and potted ferns. Every detail of the occasion was distinguished by a suggestion of Easter including the dainty hand-painted score cards. Five hundred occupied the attention of all and at the conclusion of the games it was found that Mrs. Walter C. Fraley had won the head prize, an unusually handsome handpainted vase. The consolation prize was awarded Mrs. C. F. Parker.

Refreshments, symbolical of Easter and harmonizing with the color scheme of yellow and white, were served in two courses. There were thirty guests present, including visitors from Los Angeles, Tropic, Eagle Rock and Glendale. Mrs. Pulliam was assisted by her daughters, Miss Myrtle Pulliam and Miss Emma Pulliam.

Miss Michelle Legrande of Third street spent the week end in La Habra as a guest of Mrs. Alfred Hesnhalch.

CITY TRUSTEES

A Somewhat Discursive Session. Bids Opened for Improvement of Verdugo Road

The board held its first meeting in the new city hall, all members being present except Mr. Lane, who was ill. Minutes of previous meetings read and now demands presented. The city attorney made a report in reference to the complaint made by certain citizens on the West Side in regard to dog kennels; he was not prepared to give an opinion as yet, but from recent investigation made he seemed to be of the opinion that the case is not so serious as at first reported. There were a large number of contractors present interested in the opening of bids for improvement of Verdugo road. The order of business was suspended and bids opened and declared as follows:

D. C. Howard, macadamizing, 6709 sq. ft., curb 21.
P. R. Sinclair, macadamizing, 36 sq. ft., curb 24; grading 95.
L. G. Garney, macadamizing, 6827 sq. ft., curb 29; grading 70 3-10.
P. L. Ferry, macadamizing, 65; curb 23; grading 75.

Bids were referred to the city engineer.

The matter of storm water at First and Verdugo road and at the mouth of Sycamore Canon was discussed at considerable length. The city engineer promised to make a recommendation to the public works committee to whom it was referred. The clerk was instructed to accept the proposition of the Home Telephone company to put phones in new city building. The application of the proprietors of the Majestic theater for a refund of money paid by them for an advertisement license on the ground that the ordinance is not being enforced as to other and similar concerns, developed considerable difference of opinion among members in regard to the matter, which was finally referred to the ordinance committee. The clerk was authorized to provide four ballot boxes for the coming municipal election.

The matter of ornamental street lighting which has been laid over from week to week since October, was taken up and the report and recommendation of the manager of the lighting department was adopted with modifications. After providing for the purchase of a sufficient number of cusplods to supply the anticipated needs of the board and spectators, the board adjourned.

GOES TO PATTON TO REFORM.

Watson B. Pitzer, who has been before Recorder Whomes two or three times on charges of being drunk and disorderly, was brought up again Thursday of last week on the old charge, having been making himself a nuisance to the neighborhood of his home, 1525 West Seventh street. He pleaded guilty, and was turned over to the Superior Court in Los Angeles, at his own request, and sent to the insane asylum at Patton to give him a chance to reform.

HER FACE WINS PRIZE.

Photograph of Pretty Attache of Student Francis' Office Takes Award Over All Others—Picture Taken by Edward Weston Wins Over All Others in National Photographic Contest of an Eastern Periodical Devoted to Artistic Picture Making.

Although hidden under the thin alias of "Miss S." in the current number of an eastern magazine devoted to photography, the hundreds who daily come and go in the office of John H. Francis, superintendent of city schools, instantly and unanimously identified the prize-winning picture, as that of Miss Nellie Scott, who dispenses hospitality and smiles in the board of education rooms.

Miss Scott is one of the most popular personages in the school department, as well for her unfailing stock of sunshine as for her efficiency in the performance of her duties. The photograph is the work of Edward H. Weston, a local photographer.—From L. A. Times of March 18, 1912.

DEATHS.

Mrs. Clara J. Brice, wife of R. E. Brice, of 1017 W. Fifth street, died Saturday last of tuberculosis. Services were held at 2 o'clock Monday at Pulliam's Undertaking parlors, Rev. S. L. Ward officiating. The deceased leaves a husband and a son six years old. Mr. Brice, who is a civil engineer connected with the Soo Railroad system, brought his wife here a short time ago for her health.

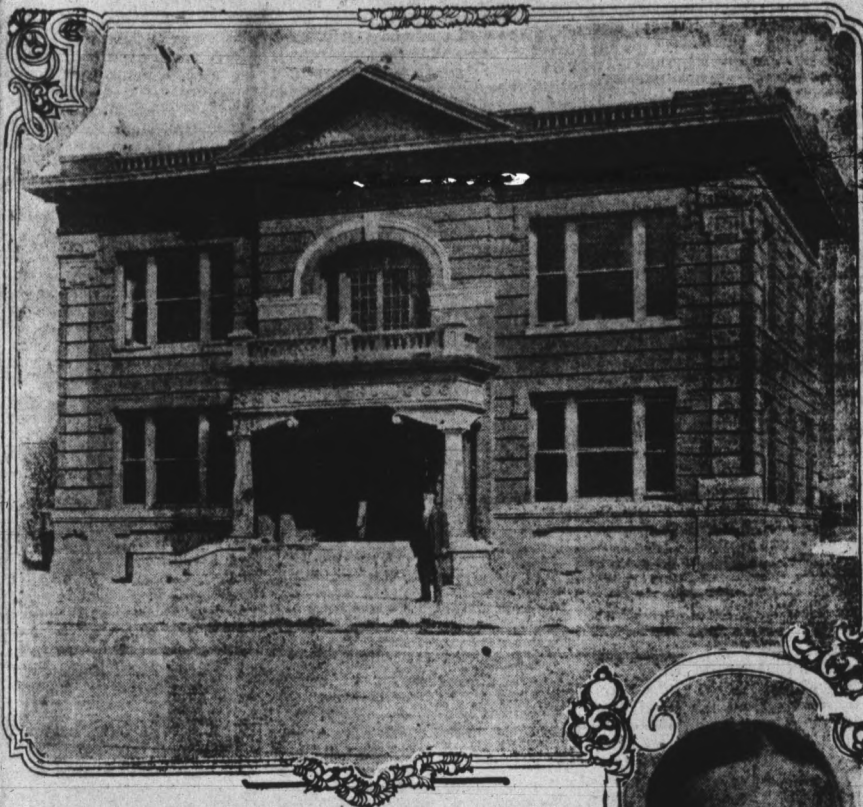

John F. Ross died at the Sanitarium Friday last where he had been for only a day or two. Mr. Ross was a member of the large concern known well in the North, the Howard Iron Works, was a native of Scotland, 70 years of age and very wealthy. Remains were shipped to Vancouver, B. C.

James West, aged 65 years, died Monday, March 18th, at Wilson's Court, Tropic.

The death of A. E. Volker is alluded to elsewhere.

W. P. Haber of 1430 Milford street died Monday evening after a brief illness, the fatal ending of which was entirely unexpected, the cause being heart trouble. Mr. Haber had been a resident of Glendale about a year and was a consistent and valued member of the Baptist church. He had just completed his 61st year. He leaves a wife, two daughters, a sister and four brothers. It is expected that the funeral will take place from his late residence, Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mrs. O. H. O'Neill is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Frisbie of West Fifth street.

FRONT VIEW OF NEW CITY HALL, GLENDALE, NOW OCCUPIED

The above cut, made from a photograph by Mr. C. H. Bott, will give a very clear idea of the new municipal building which was occupied by the city officials and their assistants the latter part of last week. The building is constructed of blue brick, with concrete base, porch and trimmings. The interior is Mission style finish. The lighting department occupies the room on the west side of the hallway on entering, while on the right are located the street superintendent and city engineer. The city clerk has a room on the west front on the second floor, the remainder of the floor in front being occupied by the council chamber. In the rear are located the city recorder and the building inspector. For the present, and probably for five years to come, the building will be ample for the accommodation of the city business, and the occupants who have been so long in the cramped quarters on the other side of the street are pleased with their increased elbow and breath in the room.

The bond issue representing the cost of the property was for $7,500. Of this sum, $7,500 approximates the cost of the building, which was erected by Anderson & Murdock, Paul Tuttle, architect, and the work is now done. There is ample yard space in the rear, the lots having a depth of 100 feet. The following are the city officers: Trustees—John Robert White, president; George E. Williams, Harry P. Coker, O. A. Lane, T. W. Watson, G. B. Woodberry, city clerk; G. B. Hoffman, city treasurer; H. M. Miller, marshal; R. E. Chase, health officer; J. Whomes, recorder; W. F. Evans, attorney; Ed. M. Lynch, engineer; O. W. Tarr, street superintendent; J. M. Baker, building inspector; H. B. Lynch, manager lighting department.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

Mr. J. J. Wesels has exchanged his property on Third street near Verdugo road for farm land in Washington. The exchange was made with Mr. W. F. Merrick who with his family will occupy the Third street property.

Mr. W. L. Henderson has sold lot 2 in Block 24, Howard street, corner of First to Mr. W. F. Starkey who with his family occupies the premises.

Mr. J. Roman, 612 Brand boulevard, continues to show his faith in the future of Glendale by buying up bargains whenever he finds them. Recently he has acquired a lot on Seventh street between Central and Columbus; a lot on Sixth street between Columbus and Pacific, and a house and lot on corner of Seventh and Columbus. He recently sold a lot in Young's Orange Grove tract on Eleventh street near Central to Mr. McNeil of Spokane, who will build. His home place on Central avenue, Tropic, he has sold to Mrs. Brown of Chicago. He is making additions to the store building, Sixth and Brand, fitting it up for a residence for himself and family.

Thandler and Lawson keep busy building and selling lots to others who will keep on with the good work. Their report sales are the following: Lot on Kenwood between First and Doran, to L. C. Ferguson. In the same block a lot to Elmer Elliott, who will build at once. House and lot on Kenwood street near First street to U. J. Lewis of Kenosha, Wis., who will occupy it at once, price $4000. To Mr. C. H. Hurd of the same place a house and lot on Louise street between First and Doran, to be occupied by owner's daughter and family, price $4000. In the same block house and lot to J. H. Kelleher of Los Angeles who will occupy with his family, price $4200. A house and lot on Fifth street between Central and Columbus to Mrs. R. C. Newton of Glendale, price $2500. This firm is building for Mrs. Brown on Sixth street west of Brand a large residence; also a house on Tenth street and are making plans to build four more on Jackson street between First and Second, in the Livingston tract.

Mr. J. W. Dalrymple of Montrose Park, Colo., who has spent considerable time in Glendale during the winter, has sold his Colorado property and started for Glendale again. He will occupy the house on Eleventh street east of Brand belonging to Mr. Donnell and will no doubt settle down here.

The Walker Realty Company reports the following transactions: Lot on Hawthorne street, corner of Central, sold to Carl Blackwell of the Kalem Picture Company, who will build; lots

1, 3 and 5 in the Livingston Tract, southeast corner First and Louise streets, to Messrs. Clark and Middleworth. The former will build at once.

C. D. Thom reports the sale of seven lots in the Livingston Tract during the past week, twelve of them on Jackson street and two on the east side of Kenwood, south of Doran. Doran street is soon to be opened through from Brand eastward. There are now only about a dozen lots left in this tract, which was put on the market with sixty lots about a year and a half ago.

An important real estate deal was made this week when Mr. Edwin T. Earl of La Canada, purchased the Tom Hall property adjoining that on which he is now making his home. The deal represented a cash consideration of $35,000.

BUILDING PERMITS.

During the past week the following permits have been given, with others of less valuations: Mr. Farmer, corner Lomita and Central, two-story house, $3,500; F. W. Pize, Maryland, near First street, $2,500; W. P. Hodges, Pioneer Drive and Remington, $1,800; Y. M. Ott, Pioneer Drive and Remington, cottage, $1,700; Robert McMullin, Chestnut, near Central, four-room cottage, $800.

MAIDS AND MATRONS ENTERTAIN. The Third Monday of the Maids and Matrons of the Country Club was devoted to a reception given in the evening in honor of the club members. The club parlors were again the scene of an oft-repeated social success, the occasion being one of the happiest and most enjoyable on record.

Mr. Charles Farwell Edson, a well-known Los Angeles musician and lecturer, gave an address on the "City Beautiful," which claimed the interest and attention of all. This was followed by a vocal solo by Spencer Robinson, who sang "Mother 'o Mine," one of Mr. Edson's own compositions.

During the ensuing social hour delicious and dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. W. W. McElroy of Adams street was hostess of the evening.

AUTOMOBILE DISASTER.

Thomas Thornton, Jr., of Central avenue sustained a very painful accident Wednesday morning when in cranking his automobile he broke both bones in his forearm and dislocated his wrist. Dr. A. L. Bryant was immediately called to attend the case and the patient is now reported to be resting very comfortably.

Mr. Charles Wells of Fourth street has issued invitations for a stag dinner to be given at his home on Friday evening in honor of the boy's basketball team of the high school and the Bar-Z boys.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

Household economics will be considered at the club, Tuesday afternoon, March 26. Mrs. J. C. Sherer in charge of the program. Mrs. Sherer has been fortunate in securing Mrs. J. B. Nichols of Compton State Federation, chairman of household economics, who will address the club on household economics. Mrs. J. H. Wells will give a ten-minute talk along the same line and Miss Lillian May Orth will sing.

RAN OVER BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

Mr. W. H. Townsend of Lorraine street, Casa Verdugo, was hit by an automobile while crossing the San Fernando road near Sixth street last Friday afternoon. The driver of the machine brought him to his home. No bones were broken although Mr. Townsend suffered from several bad bruises. He will probably be out again in a few days.

The Westerner's Ideal.

The westerner's willingness to give up home, neighbors and old associations for the sake of a "claim" on the prairie is not sordid. His stern preoccupation with "getting ahead" is a part of his inherited passion for personal independence. I have seen a gray hue steal over the face of the settler when speaking of some one who had "lost his farm" and "had to go out by the day." For the wage earner's lot the true born westerner feels a dread quite incomprehensible to cities and to old communities. If he ruthlessly sacrifices comforts and culture, it is that he may win a footing of his own and so call no man master. Once he has cleared off the mortgage, improved his place and gained a soothing sense of financial security, he will provide books, piano, music lessons, travel and college education for his children, even if in the meantime his own capacity to enjoy has been atrophied.—Professor Edward Alsworth Ross in Century.

Women and the Violin.

"A distinguished violinist of this city," writes Philip Hale in the Boston Herald, "was talking recently about women who fiddled and now fiddle. He complained that nearly all of them classed as great erred in this—they tried to play like a man; they wished to be like him that they had a little tone. He did not except Lady Halle, Miss Powell or Miss Parlow. The only great woman violinist I remember was Teresina Tuni, and her greatness consisted in the fact that she always played like a woman. She was womanly and fascinating. Saint-Saens once said apropos of Augusta Holmes that when a woman wrote for the orchestra she was noisier than any man because she wished to show that she was not a poor, weak thing on account of her sex."

Gambetta's Table.

There is a curious story told of the table at which Gambetta wrote. A previous owner, General Lahitte, minister for foreign affairs in 1849, dismissed his confidential servant because he believed he had stolen a large sum of money in 1,000 franc banknotes. Years afterward, when the table had to be repaired, the joiner employed for the work found the missing bundle of banknotes between the mahogany board of the table and the drawers below. They had lain there unnoticed for fourteen years. Unfortunately the story does not go on to say that the poor servant and his mistaken master were alive at the time of the discovery and that the one's character was cleared and the other's confidence restored.

The Japanese Hells.

The Japanese language has no equivalent for our word "hell," but has the word "jigoku" instead. Jigoku consists of, first, eight immense hot hells, ranging one beneath the other in tiers. Each of these hells has sixteen additional hells outside its gates, like so many antechambers, so that there are in all 136 hot hells. Second, there are eight large cold hells, each with its sixteen antechambers, making the same number of cold that there are of hot hells. Besides these 272 hot and cold hells for offenders of the common sort, the wily Japs have twenty mammoth "hells of utter darkness," into which will be consigned the spirits of children who take the name of Dai Butsu, or Great Buddha, in vain.

As to Papa's Wealth.

"Mamma, what is papa worth?" "I don't know, dear, but it must be a great deal. I heard him say once that he had put $100,000 into a mining company's stock." "What's the name of the mining company?" "Wildcat, I think he said. I presume they named it that because it's in some unsettled country away out on the frontier."—Chicago Tribune.

Some English Names.

It is a difficult matter sometimes to spell an English name from hearing it pronounced. For instance, Farquharson is pronounced Farnson. This, however, is "simple as A B C" compared with the weird renderings of some other names. Who, for instance, would dream of pronouncing Woolfardisworthy Oosry, Wrenfordleigh Beasley or Wyrardisbury Raysbury?—Pearson's.

Papa Did Too.

"This is my son Frederick. Mr. Foster," said Mr. Glanders proudly, introducing his five-year-old boy to his caller. "Well, Frederick," said the caller, "do you obey your mamma?" "Yes, sir," replied Frederick promptly, "and so does papa."

Her Cultivated Taste.

"How is your daughter getting on with her music?" "Very well," answered Mr. Cumrox. "She has got along so far that when I ask her to play anything I like she looks haughty and says, 'The idea!'"—Washington Star.

His Specialty.

"Do you speak several languages, father?" "No, my son," replied Mr. Henpeck, gazing sadly at his wife, "but I do know the mother tongue."—Judge.

Aids to History.

Mrs. Brown—Haven't you found personally that history always repeats itself? Mrs. Bliss—Not always. The neighbors repeat most of my history. —New York Times.

Nature.

Nature never did betray the heart that loved her. 'Tis her privilege through all the years of this our life to lead from joy to joy.—Wordsworth.

The Queer Elephant Shrew.

One kind of African shrew we seldom see or read about is the little elephant shrew. It is barely four inches long, but the trunk and shortened tail combined gives it another four to five inches. The fur, though drab instead of gray, is otherwise like that of a chinchilla, as also are its large and delicate ears, while both in the formation and the manner of using its legs it reminds one of a new species of miniature kangaroo. Again, at times, when in a sitting posture, it looks not unlike a fluffy young chicken which is trying to put out of sight a worm that has proved almost too much for it. Indeed, at all times the elongated and highly sensitive nose or trunk is very much like a dark colored and uneasy worm—that organ, which during wakeful moments is always slightly on the wriggle. It has swift leaping powers. It will tuck up its appendages and, like a ball, roll over and over in a straight line, and, after a meal, which occurs at very short intervals and consists of several mouthfuls only, quite surprises one by standing stock still, apart only from a gentle quivering of the trunk.

A Certain Shot.

The aged, wrinkled gamekeeper whistled his dog and scratched his towed head before turning to the company. "Yes, sir," said he: "the rummiest master I ever had were old Parson Sharpe. As blind as a bat, he were." "And did he go shooting?" exclaimed the audience in the village workmen's club. "Shooting!" replied the gamekeeper, with a snort of contempt at the question. "Ay, that he did. Yes, he shot regular. When he was in the woods and anything rose I'd cry, 'Birds, sir!' and then I'd run behind the parson and the dogs'd run behind me." "And then?" asked the audience. "Then the old gent'd blaze away with both barrels." "And did he ever hit anything?" "Oh, yes! Sometimes it wur a cow or a horse or a pig or a dog. Now and again it wur a man. But he always hit something. He were a certain shot, he were!"—London Answers.

Spiking the Guns.

The expression "spiking guns" is a survival from the day when all that was necessary to put a gun out of action (provided, of course, that you had access to it) was a large nail or spike and a hammer. You simply drove the nail into the touch-hole at the breech. If the nail was long enough to turn round at the end on the bottom of the bore so much the better. It is just as simple, perhaps simpler, to put a modern gun out of action. All you want is a hammer. The breech block of the modern gun is held closed by screw threads. After the breech block is shut on the shell a turn of two or three inches engages the threads. By knocking a bur on these threads you prevent them engaging. Any attempt to fire the gun without the breech block being perfectly closed would, of course, be of material assistance to the enemy.

Office Lawyers.

"Office practice is what the average lawyer seeks for now," remarked an attorney, "and that is the business that makes the largest returns for the least waste of tissue. More money is made nowadays by keeping clients out of litigation and free from the dangers of the law's delay than by defending them, even successfully, in court. It is safe to say that there are some 6,000 lawyers who are making a very good living in New York from law business that rarely or never takes them into court and that there are a large number of lawyers who from their counsel work and directing great enterprises and corporations, advising and guiding wealthy clients, take in each year princely—yes, even fabulous—amounts."—Lawyer's Diary.

Romance of a Statue.

The statue of Charles I, which now stands in London was sold to a brazier during the commonwealth with the understanding that it should be broken up. The buyer, however, saw a chance to make money and buried it instead. To cover his action he made a large number of bronze knives and forks, which were eagerly bought by both royalists and Puritans as souvenirs. When the monarchy was restored to power the statue was dug up again and bought by the government to be placed in its present position, where it has remained since 1674.

He Ought to Get It.

"On what grounds do you seek a divorce from your wife?" asked the lawyer. "Simply because of a pun," replied the long suffering husband. "You see, she's a sculptress, and it gets on my nerves to hear her remark twenty times a day, 'Will you love me when I mold?'"—New York Times.

Control of Children.

Also With Gloves.

Don't Tell All You Know.

Don't tell all you know. Keep a little for a nest egg.

The Teazel.

Those who have never seen a teazel can imagine a fir cone or "swamp cat-tail" set all over with little stiff hooks. It is the bur (or tassel or flower head or thistle top) of the plant dipacis. However familiar to people who live in lands where the teazel is extensively grown, the fact may be that the prickly heads of that plant are universally used to raise the nap on cloth. A multitude of persons in this country probably never heard of it and would be astonished to learn in what enormous quantities the plant is cultivated. In France alone many thousands of acres of land are exclusively devoted to the cultivation of the teazel. French manufacturers use enormous numbers of the prickly heads, and from France there are exported many millions of them. They are also raised in Austria, England, Belgium, Poland and the Crimea. The prickles of the teazel have a small knob at the end, and this, mounted on an elastic stem and set with great precision on the central spindle, affords a little brush such as the utmost mechanical skill has never been able to rival, at all events at the same price.—Harper's Weekly.

Tea Testers in Formosa.

In the Formosan tea trade the most important man is the cha si, or taster. He inspects and tests samples of all teas offered to his firm, and his judgment determines the price to be paid. In a room admitting light only from the north the cha si does his work. He first examines the leaf, then its fusion in hot water and lastly its odor and taste. Practically all the faculties are exercised in making this test. It requires the services of an expert, and the tea tester receives a good salary, though relatively not so large as obtaining twenty years ago. A tea tester never uses any perfume which would destroy the tea odor. He must not allow the acuteness of his taste to become dull. He never drinks domestic tea. Constant tea testing, it is said, will injure the health. In Formosa the tea testers are Americans or Englishmen.

Black and White.

For many years a large department store has spent thousands of dollars on placards with which almost every article of merchandise is ticketed throughout the store, and only within a short time did they realize the amount of money that was wasted in using the white cardboard with black lettering. These white cards soon become soiled and shop worn if allowed to remain in place any length of time. The cards which are handled by customers in bins, trays, etc., are even more so. By substituting the black cardboard with white lettering this store has overcome this difficulty to a very great extent. The show cards are always clean, fresh and bright looking and they last many times as long, saving the firm several hundred dollars in the course of a year.—Business.

Wesley's "Narrow Neck of Land."

The actual first and last house in England is a shed where a woman sells specimens of rock. Just below this, as one goes down the zigzag path between the rocks, on the neck of the peninsula is a flat stone about two feet square and rising six inches above the ground. This, tradition asserts, is that upon which John Wesley sat when he composed the hymn—

Lo, on a narrow neck of land
Twixt two unbounded seas I stand Secure, insensible!

It is also stated that Wesley wrote other hymns there. Apparently he had at this time (July 30, 1743) experienced a bad spell of weather at Land's End, for he writes, "I saw a strange sight—the sun shining in Cornwall."—English Illustrated Magazine.

Putting an Elephant's Tooth.

Perhaps the greatest dental operation on record was performed upon an elephant in the City of Mexico. The aching tooth was twelve inches long and measured fourteen inches round the root. After the animal had been securely fasten with chains his mouth was pried open and a quantity of cocaine applied to deaden the pain. When this was done a hole was bored through the tooth and an iron bar inserted. Then a rope was twisted around the bar, and four horses were attached thereto to drag the offending molar out.—London Tit-Bits.

Speak to the Horse.

The human voice has more or less marked influence on all animals. In managing horses especially the voice is of the greatest use. It should be quiet and, though confident and masterful, not loud and boisterous. No one should ever touch a horse without at the same time speaking to it.—Exchange.

An Accepted Story.

"Quills has really had a story accepted at last," remarked a journalist to a colleague. "Surely not," was the rejoinder. "Yes. He went home at 2 o'clock this morning with an awful yarn, and his wife believed it."

Golden Thought.

An irreverent and illiterate Englishman who has just returned from the United States was heard to describe the country the other day as "a hell dollarado."—London Punch.

Unlucky.

"The more I try to sing this child to sleep the louder it yells." "Your voice, my dear, is a Jonah—it is being swallowed by a wall."—Baltimore American.

No one is useless in this world who lightens the burden of his brother.—Charles Dickens.

Conquered.

"No," snapped the hard featured woman, opening the kitchen door about six inches, "and, to be perfectly plain with you—" "You couldn't, marm," gallantly interposed Tufford Knutt, lifting his tattered remnant of a hat—"you couldn't be otherwise than perfectly harnsome with me!" "I was going to say," she rejoined, visibly softening, "that, to be plain with you, there is nothing in the house but cold victuals, but if you care to try a plate of warmed over hash you can come in."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Didn't Tire Him.

He had taken pains when he applied for work to assure the farmer that he never got tired. When his new employer went to the field where he had put the man at work he found him lolling on his back under a tree. "What does this mean?" asked the farmer. "I thought you were a man who never got tired." "I don't," said the hired man calmly. "This doesn't tire me."—Exchange.

A Certain Silver Sixpence.

Ben Brummel had a very odd way of accounting for the sad change which took place in his affairs at this time. "He used," observes one of his friends at Cuen, "when talking about his altered circumstances, to say that up to a particular period of his life everything prospered with him and that he attributed his good luck to the possession of a certain silver sixpence with a hole in it, which somebody had given him years before with an injunction to take good care of it, as everything would go well with him so long as he did and vice versa if he happened to lose it. The promised prosperity attended him for many years while he held the sixpence fast; but, having at length in an evil hour unfortunately given it by mistake to a hackney coachman, a complete reverse of his previous good fortune took place and one disastrous occurrence succeeded another till actual ruin overtook him at last and obliged him to part with himself."—Captain Jesse.

Be wiser than other people if you can, but do not tell them so.

Real Competition.

"Competition is the life of trade," said the business man. "Of course it is," replied Mr. Dustin Stax. "Only we want to get trade so regulated that folks will be competing for a chance to buy instead of a chance to sell."—Washington Star.

Going Some.

Inquirer (at South Station, Boston)—Where does this train go? Brakeman—This train goes to New York in ten minutes. Inquirer—Gee, whiz! That's going some!—Exchange.

Giving It a Fair Show.

"Mrs. Jones, my egg is bad again this morning. I can't possibly eat it!" "Have you tried the other end, sir?"—London Punch.

"Are you sure he is a good doctor?" "Well, he is recommended by the president of the insurance company as a 253,000 policy on my life."—Smart Set.

The best preparation for the future is the present well seen to, the last duty done.—George Macdonald.

A Blessing to the Farmer's Wife

THE Bell Telephone Service lightens the domestic task of the farmer's wife.

In the family circle, the Bell Service is indispensable. It is a constant household companion. It shops for her when she is too busy to go to town. It brings her in close touch with the social life of the community. Loved ones far away may be reached, for the Bell field is almost limitless. It relieves the monotony of life. She CANNOT be lonesome with the Bell Service at her command. It is a constant source of pleasure and profit in the home circle.

For Violent Transit.
A book by Edwin J. Dingle, entitled "Across China on Foot," contains a bit of practical advice about the manner in which American goods should be packed for transportation in the interior of China. Conditions are such that the packing should be thorough; the Germans and the Japanese understand this; British and American manufacturers are either careless in this respect or ignorant of what is demanded by the conditions of transportation over roads that are mainly eight inch tracks along the face of precipices.

One of Mr. Dingle's friends, needing a typewriter and knowing the country, wrote home explicit directions as to the packing. "Pack it ready to ship," he wrote, "then take it to the top of your office stairs, throw it downstairs, take the machine out and inspect, and if it is undamaged send it to me. If damaged, pack another machine and subject it to the same treatment until you are convinced that you have one that can stand being thus handled and escape injury."

Didn't Convert Franklin.
Whitefield, the great preacher, who toward the middle of the eighteenth century started such a revival of religion in all the colonies, was, of course, a man of too much ability to escape the serious regard of Franklin, who relates that he attended one of his sermons, fully resolved not to contribute to the collection at the close of it.

"I had in my pocket," he says, "a handful of copper money, three or four silver dollars and five pistoles in gold. As he proceeded I began to soften and concluded to give him a copper. Another stroke of his oratory determined me to give him the silver, and he finished so admirably that I emptied my pocket wholly into the collector's dish, gold and all."

Franklin and Whitefield became fast friends, and Whitefield often prayed for his friend's conversion, but "never," says Franklin, "had the satisfaction of believing that his prayers were heard."—"The Real Benjamin Franklin."

Woman the Exception.
"As I understand it," said the young man thoughtfully, "two negatives make an affirmative."

"Quite right," replied the distinguished grammarian.

"And yet," persisted the young man, "it doesn't seem to work out just exactly right."

"What's the trouble?" asked the distinguished authority. "Perhaps I can straighten the matter out for you."

"I will be deeply indebted to you if you can," said the young man earnestly. "In the last two months I have received two decided negatives—one each from two girls—and for the life of me I can't see where the affirmative comes in."

"My dear sir," explained the distinguished authority, "as you grow older you will learn how utterly impossible it is to apply any rules to womankind!"

What Wealth Brings.
The late Colonel Ingersoll was talking one day with a group of friends when the subject of wealth and the desire of most men to accumulate money was discussed.

"I never could understand it," said the colonel. "Just imagine a man with 800,000 hats, 400,000 pairs of shoes, 1,000,000 pairs of gloves, 6,000,000 handkerchiefs, 200,000 pairs of suspenders and a train load of neckties getting up before daylight and exerting every energy until late at night in order that he may make enough money to buy himself another necktie!"

Artistic.
"I will give you your dinner, if you will beat those rugs," said the woman with the gingham apron at the back door.

"Ah, madam," replied the wanderer, his hat in his hand, "those rugs are really and truly beautiful—exquisite. I don't think they possibly could be beat!"—Yonkers Statesman.

A Boomerang Rebuke.
A certain high school professor, who at times is rather blunt in speech, remarked to his class of boys at the beginning of a lesson, "I don't know why it is—every time I get up to speak some fool talks." They be wondered why the boys burst out into a roar of laughter.—Lippincott's.

The Grand Old Name.
All Englishmen disagree as to which of them are "gentlemen." The problem divides the whole nation into embittered units. It is, however, generally conceded that no man is a "gentleman" who has not had a remote ancestor who robbed the country.—London Truth.

A Thorough Test.
"Inspector, that woman I said was always listening on my party line must have quit."

"What makes you think so?"

"Why, my wife has been listening for three weeks and hasn't caught her yet!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Laziness Won.
The teacher had offered a prize for the best essay, the subject to be "The Reward of Laziness." When the compositions were handed in it was found that one boy had submitted a sheet of blank paper. He won the prize.—Chicago News.

Didn't Have It With Him.
Teacher (disgustedly)—X, boy, my boy! Where is your intuition? Boy—I ain't got any. I'm only here a few days, and I didn't know what I had to get.—Louisville Times.

His Tribute to His Wife.
The following obituary notice was published in a German paper: "Today red, tomorrow dead. So it was with my wife, who only seven days ago 'was springing over bench and table,' and was buried yesterday. During her life she was a live woman, who did not easily mistake an X for a U. For that reason everybody can tell the extent of my sorrow; so young and so merry, and now buried. What is human life? I have said to myself repeatedly within the past few days, and also yesterday in the church yard when I paid the sexton, who will also keep the grave mound in order. So cheerful a wife I shall certainly never, never find again, and therefore my sorrow is a righteous one. I wish that heaven preserves any man from a similar sad fate, and thanks for the flowers, as well as the Herr Cantor, the music master of the choir, for the grave hymn, which went through and through me, but was very well sung. Ackerman, Master Locksmith."

Not the Silent Partner.
"I want to telegraph $25 to Chicago," said a man to the clerk in a Boston telegraph office recently.

"The name, please," asked the receiving teller, a good looking young woman behind the counter, whose age might have been twenty-five.

"It's for Mrs. Mary K. Brown, 175 avenue," answered the man.

"Your name, please," again questioned the young woman.

"My name is Henry Brown; I'm the other half of the firm," answered the man.

"The money goes to the silent partner, eh?" good naturedly remarked the young woman.

"Not on your life she isn't!" answered the man. "Nothing silent about her. She's made more noise for the last two weeks for this $25 than you can imagine. She's the noisy partner of the firm, and she makes good with the title too."—Boston Traveler.

The Giraffe as It Feeds.
The singular shape of the giraffe is adapted to its habits of life. It feeds on the young branches and top shoots of the trees, and its long fore legs and neck enable it to browse at a far greater height than any other animal, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. In feeding it stretches up its neck and with its long prehensile tongue, which it can protrude to a surprising distance, hooks down the tender shoots and leaves into its mouth. But the creature's peculiar form, though enabling it to feed on what it likes best, is sometimes the cause of its destruction. The fore legs are so long that to reach the ground it has to stretch them wide apart and bend down its neck in a semicircle, and while drinking in this defenseless attitude the lion or leopard springs upon it and overpowers it before it can recover itself.

Splinters in the Fingers.
When you get a splinter in your finger it is sometimes possible to get at it by pressing the point of a needle under it, but unless you have deft fingers or a pair of tweezers you may not be able to pull it out even then. A new pen nib is a very good substitute for a pair of tweezers. Lay the nib over the splinter so as to hide it. Then press down hard enough to separate the nibs. If you now let the pen down level with the splinter and allow the nibs to close again they will take hold, and you can draw the splinter out. Remember that any metal thing that is to be applied to a wound, such as a needle, penknife or pen, should be passed lightly through a flame first, so as to disinfect it. A gas jet or a match will do.—New York Sun.

Love and the Drama.
A periodical devoted to the drama pleads for plays based on some emotion other than love. The difficulty in producing such plays is that every play must have a hero, and in making a hero the playwright as well as his audience almost inevitably adopts the view expressed 2000 years ago by a scribbler on one of the dead walls of Pompeii, "He who has never loved a woman is not a gentleman!"—Exchange.

Lucky Bessie.
Having need of some small change, the mistress of the house stepped to the top of the back stairs.

"Bessie," she called to the maid below, "have you any coppers down there?"

"Yes'm—two," faltered Bessie, "but they're both my cousins, please, ma'am."—London Punch.

Before.
"You used to say," she complained, "that I was your sunlight; that the world was gloomy when you were not in my presence."

"I know," he sadly replied; "that was before you had acquired the habit of telling me candidly every few minutes what you thought of me."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Of No Utility.
Regardless of the fact that an editor almost always has on his trousers, some people can't get over the idea that a penknife is a nice present for him.—Ohio State Journal.

In Luck.
Caller—How much for a marriage license? Town Clerk—One dollar. Caller—I've only got 50 cents. Town Clerk—You're lucky.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Helping Hand.
Visitor—Are your children doing anything for you in this your last illness? Old Man—Yes; they're keeping up my life insurance.—Puck.

GLENDAL, CAL., MARCH 22, 1912

The stringent ordinance against gambling which has just gone into effect in Glendale has not yet entirely stopped the pernicious lottery schemes
by which children are induced to risk their pennies for candy which they may or may not get. At one establishment here, Easter eggs of various sizes are being disposed of on penny chances.

The surgeon general of the United States has made an interesting and valuable report in regard to the efficacy of vaccination as a preventive of typhoid fever. This disease carries off 35,000 victims yearly in the United States. Last year when an army of 12,800 men was encamped at San Antonio, there was but one case of typhoid among the soldiers, all of whom had been vaccinated, although the disease was prevalent in the city. The experience at Galveston was similar,
not a vaccinated soldier had the disease, although at the time there were nearly 200 cases in the city and soldiers and citizens mingled freely.

AGAINST CAPITAL PUNISHMENT.

Here is an opinion of capital punishment from very eminent authority;
the argument does not sound original,
but it is conclusive from the writer's point of view. It is from the pen of Mr. Jacob Oppenheimer, known in San Quentin as the "human hyena," who has three murders to his credit. Listen to this distinguished murderer:
"California is coming out of its trance at last, as woman's suffrage and the movement for the abolition of capital punishment indicates. In reference to the latter, it has always been my firm conviction that it is nothing more than legalized murder and should have been discarded long ago, for it is a relic of the dark ages and no enlightened or civilized community
would countenance it."

Doubtless this opinion is entirely unanimous among the involuntary
boarders at this state institution.

England, has at last put the Pankhurst woman and others in prison for their criminal acts in connection with their suffrage campaign. In New York City Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont declares that American suffragettes will use not stones, but shotguns in furtherance of their cause if their claims are not conceded. American women are not to any great extent fools, whatever some of their dilapidated leaders in New York society may be, so that the threat need not be taken too seriously. But the result would be interesting should the experiment be tried, for if there is one characteristic of the average citizen which may be depended upon ultimately, it is in his determination not to submit to coercion. If woman fails to have the suffrage conferred upon her in the United States after striving for it by law-abiding methods, she may as well relegate it to the list of the unattainable.

ABOUT SCHOOL EXPENDITURES.

In another place we give space to a letter from a patron of the Glendale schools (a lady). We are unable to answer the very pertinent questions asked and shall be glad to have any of our subscribers who are able to do so, answer them. We do know however that there is a tendency to increase school expenditures in every direction so that more than one-half of the taxes we pay are for educational purposes. We believe that our school authorities are unwise in encouraging
this spirit of extravagance on the ground that "We cannot pay too much for schools," for we can spend recklessly in that direction as well as in others. We are paying too much for schools at the present time because we are not getting adequate results.
It does not follow that we are paying too much salary to our teachers; those who are well qualified for the work
who do it conscientiously and well cannot easily be overpaid, but there is an undoubted extravagance in other directions. We say that the school authorities are unwise in this for the reason that there will be a natural and inevitable revulsion of feeling on the part of the people in regard to the matter and they may go to the other extreme.

APPRECIATION OF PUBLIC OFFICERS.

Every good citizen desires to see an honest and efficient administration of public affairs, from motives of selfishness if for no higher consideration,
and however citizens may differ as to their ideas of attaining the desired
end, practically all have the same object in view, the securing of a government whether local or general which shall afford to all citizens equal opportunity, and which shall give us protection to life and property with as just and equitable distribution of the burden of taxation as it is practicable for us to secure. Public officials can be to a slight degree compelled by law to do their duty, but any one of them who requires this prop to keep him in the straight way, cannot be trusted over night. In local affairs, except in the larger cities, public business is usually carried on by citizens who serve either without or with very inadequate compensation. Fortunately there are always at least a few men to be found who get a real and honest satisfaction out of the performance of public duty, who enjoy life the better
if they can be serving the public in some useful capacity, even at a personal sacrifice of time and its financial equivalent. The motive is selfish at bottom as is the very best action of the best of us in its final analysis, but it is a beneficent selfishness and should be encouraged. It therefore follows with unavailing logic that the people should whenever the occasion arises show their appreciation of the good and honest work of a public official in their behalf. This is just as essential as it is to show disapproba-tion when he does that which is unmistakably wrong. This is so generally recognized as truth that there has been formulated among intelligent citizens
an unwritten law to the effect that a public servant should be accorded the honor of being permitted to serve at least a second term when he has done
good work marked by intelligence, honesty and fearlessness. Nor should the good citizen holding the responsibility of the franchise insist that the official should at all times have acted just as he himself might have done. The essential thing on the part of the official is that he should evidently have been actuated by an intelligent honesty of purpose and have made no serious mistakes. Now as to the practical application of these general principles.
Glendale is in the midst of a municipal campaign. A large number of good citizens have been nominated for office. This paper has no personal objection to any one of them, on the contrary, quite the reverse. But having in mind the good of the entire community and believing in the principles above set forth, we do unqualifiedly believe that present officials who are willing to serve the city for another term,
should be supported as against any new candidates, even if the latter may be perfect paragons of wisdom and virtue in the private walks of life. The people do not know what kind of an official the best man in the community
may make until he has been tried out in a particular place. Mr. G. B.
Woodberry, as city clerk; Mr. G. B.
Hoffman as treasurer and Mr. O. A.
Lane, trustee, have all been tried and proved to be exceptionally good public servants and every consideration of the public service calls for their re-election.

THE SCHOOLS

The Bond Election—Correspondence

Editor NEWS:
Since such a well-qualified man as
Mr. A. B. Heacock has been induced to accept the nomination of school trustee for the three-year term, I wish to announce that I am not a candidate for such position but heartily endorse Mr. Heacock.

R. W. MEEKER.
Glendale, Cal., March 20th.

MR. BLACKBURN MAKES A STATE- MENT.

In reply to some one who is working against the school bonds for Casa Verdugo school and is circulating some falsehoods in regard to the securing
of the options for the grounds selected,
I wish to say the options were secured and turned over to the committee for the benefit of the trustees at no cost for options and at a price without commissions, and Blackburn did not have anything to do with the securing of the options and did not resign from the board in order to be able to collect commissions on the sale of the lots to the district.
R. A. BLACKBURN.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION.

The election to decide whether or not bonds shall be issued for the purchase of a five-acre tract at Casa Verdugo and the erection of a school house thereon, comes off Thursday next. The amount of bonds proposed to be issued is $35,000, of which the sum of $15,000 is to be devoted to the purchase of the five acres of land at $3,000 per acre. This property consists of several lots fronting 245 feet on Central avenue, and 721 feet on Dryden street, cement walk on all sides.
There are three polling places as follows:

Precinct No. 1, corner Dryden and Brand boulevard.
Precinct No. 2, at 549 West Fourth
street.
Precinct No. 3, at 1111 West Fourth
street.
Polls open from 8 a. m. to sundown.

Glendale, March 19th, 1912.

Editor Glendale NEWS.

Dear Sir: Some time ago in your paper you kindly agreed to publish matters of interest to the people regarding the schools of Glendale. Now I should like some information about the intermediate school. Why was this experiment put into operation in Glendale, with such haste, before it had been given even one year's trial in Los Angeles? I have asked many of the taxpayers this question and have not found one who thinks it was needed at this time. Who was asking that Glendale be given an intermediate school? We already had two grammar schools and a high school. Also, was this expensive proposition of a supervising principal over the grammar schools necessary. Were the principles of the Fourth street and Sixth street schools not doing good work
that they needed a superintendent over them?

Pasadena is not backward in the educational welfare of her citizens, and is much larger than Glendale. Yet she has no intermediate school. Let us hear from the parents whose boys and girls have attended the intermediate school the past six months.
Will you state briefly the advantages these children have gained over what they would have received by attending the Eighth grade of the grammar schools.

Has the experiment so far, Mr. Editor,
justified the additional expense?

For my part I am a friend of the schools, and am willing to forego even necessities to pay the taxes that will help the boys and girls to become useful citizens, but in common with many others would like to be sure that the money put into our schools is being used to bring about the best results.
Accordingly I shall await with interest
your answer to my questions. Sincerely yours,
PATRON.

Editor Glendale News:

I am glad to see so much interest manifested in the coming school bond election. It is as it should be, by the franchise of the people in all municipal and school affairs, obtained when everyone exercises his franchise in his vote for or against the proposition, and not let it go by default, as is done in many instances.

I desire to say that I have voted for every school bond that has been voted upon for the past eleven years, and would probably have voted for this, at least would not have opposed it, had it been what a great majority of the voters and taxpayers in this district believe to have been fair and just. I ask the voters of this district: Is it fair and just, is it right, to saddle
upon the taxpayers of this district
a bonded indebtedness of $35,000, to build a grammar school in Casa Verdugo, when $15,000 of that indebtedness goes to pay for nearly five acres of land, a little over $3,000 per acre, to satisfy the envious pride of that portion of our district? Do they need five acres of land to build a school upon?
Surely their aspirations run much higher than do ours in this part of the district, for we have not a grammar school with nearly that much land with it. To be sure, the foothill residents of Casa Verdugo can look down (for it is located down near the wash)
upon a five-acre park costing $15,000,
at the expense of the school district,
with pride; and their $20,000 school house, with 101 scholars to occupy it, while this part of the district pays the greater part of the taxes. No, gentlemen, let us get down off of this high-
mark proposition in our school affairs,
from the high school down, and meet
the requirement as they confront us,
not with all the fads in creation that now fill our schools, nor with the spirit of envy to have a more costly
school building and more useless land
than some other school has.

I am told it is a fact our schools in Southern California are much more costly in their equipment and upkeep than the schools in the North, while the teachers in the North are paid higher wages than here, with a less percentage of educational advancement. Why is this? Think you it is a political machine in our school affairs here in the South that causes this

VICTIM OF DRINK AND EXPOSURE GUARDED BY DOGS.

Thursday morning of last week Mr.
C. H. Greene of La Canada found the body of an Indian lying in an outhouse at the side of the road just east of the Sparr rancho in Verdugo Canon. Two dogs were standing guard over the remains of their dead master and so fierce was the defense put up by the larger one that it had to be shot before anything could be done for the body, upon which was found two walekey bottles partially filled; the remainder of the stuff evidently being responsible for the death of the man, who was recognized by Mr. Frank Lanterman as having formerly worked for him on the ranch. Mr. Lanterman stated that the body was that of a full-blooded Yaqui Indian named Amas Carasop. The remains were brought to the Pullman Undertaking parlors
to await the result of a coroner's inquest.

At the Woman's Lyric Club concert
in Los Angeles, Friday evening last,
Mrs. Catherine Shank of Riverdale Drive, Glendale, was the soprano so-list in the historical cantata, "Joan of Arc," and scored a great success. This club, by the way, has a reputation among musical critics of having the finest chorus body anywhere in the world.

CHAPTER XIX.

A MESSAGE FROM THE BUSH.

ONCE they were well into the thick bush, the horses had to be abandoned. Papehara was left in charge, while Joan and Sheldon and the remaining Tahitians pushed ahead on foot. An hour later, following along a wild pig trail, Sheldon suddenly halted. The bloody tracks had ceased. The Tahitians cast out in the bush on either side, and a cry from Utami appeared at them of a find. Joan waited till Sheldon came back.

"It's Mauko," he said. "Kwae did for him, and he crawled in there and died. That's two accounted for. There are ten more."

Crossing one of the quiet jungle spaces, where naught moved but a velvet twelve inch butterfly, they heard the sound of shots.

"Eigar, Joan counted. 'It was only one shot. It must be Papehara.'"

They hurried on, but when they reached the spot they were in doubt. The two horses stood quietly tethered, and Papehara, squatted on his haunches, was having a peaceful smoke. Advancing toward him, Sheldon tripped on a body that lay in the grass, and as he saved himself from falling his eyes lighted on a second. Joan recognized this one. It was Cosse, one of Gogoomy's tribesmen, the one who had promised to catch at sunset the pig that was to have baited the hook for Satan.

"No luck, missie," was Papehara's greeting, accompanied by a disconsolate shake of the head. "Catch only two boys. I have good shot at Gogoomy, only I miss."

"But you killed them," Joan chided.

"Koi must catch them alive," The Tahitian smiled.

"How?" he queried. "I am have a smoke. I think about Tahiti, and breadfruit, and jolly good time at Bora-Bora. Quick, just like that, ten boy he run out of bush for me. Each boy have long knife. Gogoomy have long knife one hand and Kwae's head in other hand. I no stop to catch 'em alive. I shoot like a—How you catch 'em alive, ten boy, ten long knife and Kwae's head?"

The scattered paths of the different boys, where they broke back after the disastrous attempt to rush the Tahitian, soon led together. They traced it to the Berande, which the runaways had crossed with the clear intention of burying themselves in the huge mangrove swamp that lay beyond.

"There is no use our going any farther," Sheldon said. "Seelee will turn out his village and hunt them out of that."

Never had runaways from Berande been more zealously hunted. The deeds of Gogoomy and his fellows had been a bad example for the 150 new recruits. One by one the boys were captured. Gogoomy alone remained at large, and, as the pursuit closed in on him, he conquered his fear of the bushmen and headed straight in for the mountains' backbone of the island. Sheldon, with four Tahitians, and Seelee, with thirty of his hunters, followed Gogoomy's trail a dozen miles into the open grass lands, and then Seelee and his people lost heart. He confessed that neither he nor any of his tribe had ever ventured so far inland before, and he narrated for Sheldon the benefit most horrible tales of the bushmen.

"Gogoomy he finish along them fella bushmen," he assured Sheldon. "My word, he finish close up, kai-kai altogether."

So the expedition turned back. Nothing could persuade the coast natives to venture farther, and Sheldon, with his four Tahitians, knew that it was madness to go on alone.

That night, after dinner, Sheldon and Joan were playing billiards when Satan barked in the compound and Lalaperu, sent to see, brought back a tired and travel stained native who wanted to talk with the "big fella white marster."

Sheldon went out on the veranda to see him.

"What name you come along, house belong me sun he go down?"

"Me Charley," the man muttered apologetically and wearily. "Me stop along Biau."

"Ah, Biau Charley, eh? Well, what name you talk along me? What place big fella marster, along white man he stop?"

Joan and Sheldon together listened to the tale Biau Charley had brought. He described Tudor's expedition up the Balesuna, the dragging of the boats up the rapids, the passage up the river where it threaded the grass lands, the innumerable washings of gravel by the white men in search of gold, the first rolling foothills, the man traps of spear-staked pits in the jungle trails, the first meeting with the bushmen who had never seen tobacco and knew not the virtues of smoking, their friendliness, the deeper penetration of the interior around the flanks of the Lion's Head, the bush scores and the fivers of the white men, and their madness in trusting the bushmen. One morning

Biau Charley noticed that the women and children had disappeared. Tudor, at the time, was lying in a stupor with fever in a late camp five miles away, the main camp having moved on those five miles in order to prospect an outcrop of likely quartz. Biau Charley was midway between the two camps when the absence of the women and children struck him as suspicious.

"My word," he said, "me savvy too much trouble close up. Me run. My word, me run."

Tudor, quite unconscious, was slung across his shoulder and carried a mile down the trail. Here, hiding new trail, Biau Charley had carried him for a quarter of a mile into the heart of the deepest jungle and hidden him in a big banyan tree. Here, and from the direction of the main camp, he had heard two rifle shots. And that was all. He had never seen the white men again.

"There is only one thing to do," Sheldon said to Joan. "I'll start the first thing in the morning."

"We'll start," she corrected. "I can get twice as much out of my Tahitians as you can, and, besides, one white should never be alone under such circumstances."

Sheldon sent for a gang boss and told him to bring ten of the biggest, best and strongest Poonga-Poonga men.

"Not salt water boys," Sheldon cautioned, "but bush boys—leg belong him strong fella leg. Boy no savvy musket, no good. You bring 'em shoot musket strong fella."

They were ten picked men that filed up on the veranda and stood in the glare of the lanterns. Their heavy, muscular legs advertised that they were bushmen. Killing was their natural vocation, not weed cutting; and, while they would not have ventured the Gundalannar bush alone, with a white man like Sheldon behind them, and a white Mary such as they knew Joan to be, they could expect a safe and delightful time. Besides, the great master had told them that the eight gigantic Tahitians were going along.

"Plenty strong fella fight," Sheldon warned them in collusion.

They grinned and shifted delightedly.

"S'pose bushmen kai-kai along you?" he queried.

"No fear," answered their spokesman, one Koogoo, a strapping, thick-lipped Ethiopian looking man. "S'pose Poonga-Poonga boy kai-kai bush boy?"

Sheldon shook his head, laughing, and dismissed them and went to overhaul the dunnage room for a small shelter tent for Joan's use.

It was quite a formidable expedition that departed from Berande at break of day next morning in a fleet of canoes and dingies. There were Joan and Sheldon, with Biau Charley and Lalaperu, the eight Tahitians and the ten Poonga-Poonga men, each proud in the possession of a bright and shining modern rifle.

Biau Charley led the way onward into the rolling foothills, following the trail made by Tudor and his men weeks before. That night they camped well into the hills and deep in the tropic jungle. The third day found them on the runways of the bushmen—narrow paths that compelled single file and that turned and twisted with endless convolutions through the dense undergrowth.

Here, in the mid-morning, the first casualty occurred. Biau Charley had dropped behind for a time and Koogoo, the Poonga-Poonga man who had boasted that he would eat the bushmen, was in the lead. Joan and Sheldon heard the twanging thrum and saw Koogoo throw out his arms, at the same time dropping his rifle, stumble forward and sink down on his hands and knees. Between his naked shoulders, low down and to the left, appeared the bone barbed head of an arrow. He had been shot through and through. Cocked rifles swept the bush with nervous apprehension, but there was no rustle, no movement; nothing but the humid, oppressive silence.

"Bushmen he no stop," Biau Charley called out, the sound of his voice startling more than one of them.

"My word! Look 'em that fella," he continued, brushing aside the leafy wall of the runway, and exposing a bow so massive that no one bushman could have bent it.

The Biau man traced out the mechanics of the trap and exposed the hidden fiber in the tangled undergrowth that at contact with Koogoo's foot had released the taut bow.

They were deep in the primeval forest. Biau Charley took the lead as they pushed on, and trap after trap yielded its secret lurking place to his keen scrutiny. The way was beset with a thousand annoyances, chiefest among which were thorns, cunningly concealed, that penetrated the bare feet of the invaders. Once, during the afternoon, Biau Charley barely missed being impaled in a staked pit that undermined the trail. There were times when all stood still and waited for half an hour or more, while Biau Charley prospected suspicious parts of the trail.

Where a slight runway entered the main one Sheldon paused and asked Biau Charley if he knew where it led.

"Plenty bush fella garden he stop along there short way little bit," was the answer. "All right you like 'em go look 'em along. Walk 'em easy," he cautioned a few minutes later. "Close up, that fella garden. S'pose some bush fella he stop, we catch 'em."

Creeping ahead and peering into the clearing for a moment, Biau Charley beckoned Sheldon to come on cautiously. Joan crouched beside him and together they peeped out. On one edge of the clearing was a small grass house, open sided, a mere rain shelter. In front of it, crouched on his haunchs before a fire, was a gaunt and bearded bushman. The fire seemed to smoke excessively, and in the thick of the smoke a round dark object hung suspended. The bushman seemed absorbed in contemplation of this object.

Warning them not to shoot unless the man was successfully escaping, Sheldon beckoned the Poonga-Poonga men forward. Before the bushman could shoot his swift enemies were upon him. He was rolled over and over and dragged to his feet, disarmed and helpless.

"Why, he's an ancient Babylonian!" Joan cried, regarding him. "He's an Assyrian, a Phoenician! Look at that straight nose, that narrow face, those high cheek bones and that slanting, oval forehead and the beard and the eyes too."

"And the snakey locks," Sheldon laughed.

"My word, bush fella kai-kai along that fella boy," Biau Charley remarked.

So stolid was his manner of utterance that Joan turned carelessly to see what had attracted his attention and found herself face to face with Gogoomy. At least it was the head of Gogoomy—the dark object they had seen hanging in the smoke.

Nor was Joan's horror lessened by the conduct of the Poonga-Poonga boys. On the instant they recognized the head, and on the instant rose their wild hearty laughter as they explained to one another in shrill falsetto voices Gogoomy's end was a joke. He had been fooled in his attempt to escape. He had played the game and lost. And what greater joke could there be than that the bushmen should have eaten him?

The Poonga-Poonga men's laughter died down, and they regarded with respectful eyes and attentive expressions. The Tahitians, on the other hand, were shocked, and Adamu Adam was shaking his head slowly and grunting forth his disgust. Joan was angry. Her face was white, but in each cheek was a vivid spray of red. Disgust had been displaced by wrath, and her mood was clearly vengeful.

Sheldon laughed.

"It's nothing to be angry over," he said. "You mustn't forget that he Thought Concentration.

Professor Elmer Gates performs a very interesting experiment by immersing his hands and arms to the elbows in separate vessels filled with water just to the point of overflowing. By withdrawing his thought absolutely from one hand and concentrating it on the other he so expands the blood vessels in the latter by sending an extra supply of blood to it that the water in the vessel in which it is overflowing quite perceptibly. To further prove this power of thought concentration he transfers the thought from one hand to the other without changing their positions until the other vessel overflows.

Professor Bell, inventor of the telephone, said that when driving in the provinces in extremely cold weather, when he was in great danger of having his feet frozen, he was able to send an extra supply of blood to them by concentrating his mind upon them and thus saved himself from a very painful experience.—Nautilus.

Jamaica's Booby Eggs.

Trade in booby eggs is one of the sights of Kingston, Jamaica. Long ago the British seamen gave the name "booby" to several of the species of gannets, because these fowls are regarded as stupid. The eggs are gathered in vast quantities on the islets at certain seasons of the year and taken to Port Antonio by the boatload. The arrival of a boat with booby eggs is the occasion of no little excitement among the negro women, who buy them by the box and then sell them by retail chiefly in Kingston, though they are also sold in other towns on the island. Though sold mostly by the dozen to housekeepers, booby eggs are also peddled, hard boiled, on the streets of Kingston, salt and pepper being provided that the purchasers may eat the eggs at once. These eggs are about two-thirds the size of an ordinary hen's egg and are quite palatable.

The Part of Wisdom.

Everybody in Middle Bay knew that Mrs. Captain Liscomb was talking about making a visit to her married daughter-in-law in Cincinnati. She had been talking about it for two years, but age and the natural timidity of a woman unused to travel had postponed the great event from month to month until the neighbors began to wonder whether it would ever come to pass. So one morning, when Uncle Billy Evans met Captain Liscomb in Eccles' store, there was a twinkle in his eye as he asked:

"When's Mrs. Liscomb going out to Ohio, Daniel?"

"Don't ask me!" returned the captain, a little peevishly. "I don't know nothing about it. If I tell her to go she says I want to get rid of her. If I tell her to stay at home she says I'm mean! I ain't sayin' a single word!"—Youth's Companion.

Bulldogging a Steer.

Perhaps there is no contest that is a greater tax on human endurance than that demanded by "bulldogging" a steer, and the pony is as great a factor as the man, for when once the lasso rests over the horns of the range animal all depends on the rapid way in which the trailing rope will trip the steer. When the steer is on the ground the plucky pony must keep the rope taut. The range rider leaps off and with a length of rope ties the steer's four feet together. Time is then called. Unless he has completed all these operations from the word go in less than three minutes he is not deemed fit to enter the finals. As a matter of fact, one contestant cut the time to 29 seconds, a world's record.—Sunset Magazine.

Begging the Question.

The phrase "begging the question," or in Latin "petitio principii," signifies the treating of a proposition as a fully demonstrated fact when it is actually only a premise or statement brought forward and not yet proved. In other words, to beg the question is to assume something to be true, in order to evade the task of bringing forward the necessary argument to show its truth.—Uncle Remus' Magazine.

Foiled.

"A man tried to pick my pockets in the street yesterday, but my wife prevented him."

"Did she grapple with him or just scream?"

"Neither. She wasn't there."

"Then how could she prevent him?"

"She had been through my pockets first."

"And don't forget," Sheldon added, "that he is the son of a chief and that as sure as fate his Port Adams tribesmen will take a white man's head in payment."

"It is all so ghastly ridiculous," Joan finally said.

"And—er—romantic," he suggested slyly.

She did not answer and turned away, but Sheldon knew that the shaft had gone home.

The said franchise is described as follows, to-wit:

A franchise to lay said construct, and, for the period of, forty years, to maintain and operate a pipe line system to be composed of not more than two separate lines of pipe for the purpose of carrying therein oil, along the route and under and along those certain portions of the streets of the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California, described as follows:

Beginning at the intersection of the northern boundary of a portion of the corporate limits of the City of Glendale and San Fernando Road; thence along said San Fernando Road to the intersection of the southern boundary of said portion of the corporate limits of the City of Glendale, all in Township one (1) North, Range thirteen (13) West, S. B. & M.

That the terms and conditions upon which said franchise will be offered for sale and granted are as follows, and the grantee of said franchise, subject to the approval of the Board of Trustees, shall be required to file a written acceptance of the terms and conditions thereof with the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, within thirty days after the passage of the ordinance granting the same.

That the grantee of said franchise, his, its or its successors or assigns, shall have the right to construct and maintain such traps and manholes as may be necessary to afford proper access to said pipes and pipe lines for cleaning and maintaining the same, and said traps and manholes shall at all times be kept flush with the surface of the highway and so located as to conform to any order of the Board of Trustees in regard thereto, and not to interfere with the use of the highway for travel. The grantee of said franchise, his, its or its successors or assigns, shall have the right, subject to such regulations as are now or may hereafter be in force, to make all necessary excavations in said highways for the construction and repair of said pipe lines, traps and manholes.

That the pipes to be laid and maintained under said franchise shall be of steel, of good workmanship and of an internal diameter of not less than eight (8) nor more than ten (10) inches.

That all pipes shall be laid not less than two feet underground, and, unless the Board of Trustees shall otherwise direct, shall be laid along the west side of the highways and shall be within fifteen feet from the property line in all highways sixty feet or less in width, and within five feet of the curb line in all other streets, and shall not be nearer than three feet to the macadamized portion of all macadamized roads; and where it is necessary to lay said line through the border of any macadamized road, the same shall be restored to its original condition; and in the event it is necessary to cross any portion of a macadamized road, the same shall be done by a tunnel or bore, so as not to disturb the foundation of such macadamized road, and, in the event the same cannot thus be done, the said crossing shall be made under a special permit to be granted by the Board of Trustees upon application thereof, said application to be accompanied with a drawing, specifications and explanations, showing the necessity for the same. That during the laying or repairing of any such pipes, any trench or excavation made for such purposes shall, at night-time, from sunset to sunrise, be barricaded and protected by lanterns placed at distances of not more than 40 feet apart, along such trench or excavation.

That every pipe-line constructed or maintained under the provisions of this franchise shall be constructed and maintained in accordance and conformity with all of the ordinances, rules and regulations now in force and that may hereafter be adopted and prescribed by the Board of Trustees of said city.

That the work of laying or repairing such pipes or other appliances shall be conducted with the least possible hindrance to the use of said highways for the purposes of travel, and as soon as the laying or repairing of any pipe or appliance is completed, all portions of the highways which have been excavated or otherwise injured thereby shall be placed in as good condition as the same were before the laying of such pipes, to the satisfaction of the Board of Trustees of said city. That any damage or injury suffered by any person by reason of any excavation being improperly guarded during said work shall be borne by the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns.

That said city reserves the right to change the grade of any highway or portion thereof over which said franchise shall be granted, and the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall at once change the location of all pipes and other appliances laid under said franchise so as to conform to such change of grade. That if any portion of any of said highways shall be damaged by reason of leaks in any pipe laid under said franchise, the grantee of such franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall, at his, its or their own expense, repair any such damage and put said highway in as good condition as before such leak, to the satisfaction of the Board of Trustees of said city.

That if the grantee of said franchise, his or its successors or assigns, shall fail to comply with any of the instructions of said Board of Trustees with respect to the location of any portion of said system of pipes and pipe-lines, or the repair of any damage to highways, within ten days after the service of written notice upon said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, requiring compliance therewith, then said Board of Trustees may immediately do whatever work is necessary to carry out said instructions, at the cost and expense of said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, which costs, by the acceptance of said franchise, said grantee, his or its successors or assigns, agree to pay upon demand.

That the work of constructing and laying said system of pipes and pipe-lines shall be commenced in good faith within not more than four months from the granting of the said franchise, and shall be continuously prosecuted thereafter in good faith and without unnecessary or avoidable interruption or delay. That within six months from taking effect of this ordinance a sum of not less than $50,000.00 shall be expended upon such pipe-lines. That such work of construction shall be completed within not more than three years from and after the date of granting the franchise. That if said work be not so commenced, prosecuted and completed within the times and in the manner specified, said franchise shall be forfeited.

That the said grantee and his or its successors or assigns shall, during the life of said franchise, pay to the said city, in lawful money of the United States, two per cent of the gross annual receipts of such grantee and his or its successors or assigns arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise. No percentage shall be paid for the first five years succeeding the date of said franchise, but thereafter such percentage shall be payable annually.

It shall be the duty of the grantee of said franchise, and of his or its successors or assigns, to file with the City Clerk of the said Board of Trustees at the expiration of six years from the date of the granting of said franchise, and at the expiration of each and every year thereafter, a statement, verified by the oath of said grantee or his or its successors or assigns or by the oath of the manager or presiding officer of said grantee or his or its successors or assigns, showing in detail the total gross receipts and gross earnings collected or received by said grantee or his or its successor or assigns during the preceding twelve months, arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise and within ten days after the time to filing the aforesaid statement, it shall be the duty of said grantee and his or its successors or assigns to pay to the City Treasurer of said city the aggregate sum of the said percentage upon the amount of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise and if the amount paid is incorrect, it shall be the duty of the Board of Trustees to order the payment of such additional sum as they may find due hereunder, and if not paid, the same may be collected by suit. And any neglect, omission or refusal by said grantee or his or its successors or assigns to file said verified statement or to pay the said percentage of the said gross annual receipts at the time or in the manner hereinbefore provided, shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of said franchise and of all rights thereunder to the said city.

That said grantee or his or its successors or assigns shall not sell, transfer, assign or lease said franchise or any part thereof, or any of the rights or privileges granted thereby, except by a duly executed instrument in writing filed in the office of the Board of Trustees of said city, and nothin in said franchise contained shall be construed to grant to said grantee or his or its successors or assigns any right to sell, transfer or assign or to lease said franchise or any of the rights or privileges granted thereby except in the manner aforesaid.

That any neglect, failure or refusal to comply with any of the conditions of said franchise shall thereupon immediately ipso facto effect a forfeiture thereof, and the said city by its Board of Trustees may thereupon declare said franchise forfeited, and may exclude said grantee or his or its successors or assigns from further use of the highways of said city under said franchise; and said grantee and his or its successors or assigns shall thereupon and immediately surrender all rights in and to the same, and said franchise shall be deemed null and void, and of no effect.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids in writing will be received at the office of said Board of Trustees for said franchise up to 7:30 o'clock p. m. of the 15th day of April, 1912.

That the bids received will be opened at that time; that all bids must be for the payment of a stated sum in gold coin of the United States; and that the franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, provided, only, that at the time of opening said bids any responsible person, firm, corporation, present or represented, may bid for said franchise a sum not less than ten per cent. above the highest sealed bid therefor, and that said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent. by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded by said Board of Trustees to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States, and provided further that the Board of Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Each sealed bid, must be accompanied with cash, or a certified check, payable to the City Treasurer of said city, for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid will be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith; and the successful bidder must deposit at least ten per cent. of the amount of his bid with the Clerk of said city before said franchise will be struck off to him, and if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, his bid will not be received and will be considered as void, and said franchise will then and there be again offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure will be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten per cent. of the amount of his bid, as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the City Clerk within twenty-four hours after the acceptance of his bid the remaining ninety per cent. of the amount thereof, and in case he or it fails to do so, then the said deposit thereto made will be forfeited, and the award of said franchise will be void, and said Board of Trustees, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder fails to deposit with the City Clerk the remaining ninety per cent. of his bid within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise will be set aside, and the deposit thereto made by him will be forfeited, and no further proceedings for the sale of said franchise will be had until the same shall be re-advertised for sale.

Notice is also hereby given that the successful bidder for said franchise must within five days after said franchise is awarded to him or it, file with said Board of Trustees a bond with said city in the penal sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00), with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by said Board of Trustees, conditioned that said bidder will construct said pipe-lines and shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of said bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. If said bond be not so filed, the award of said franchise will be set aside, and any money paid therefor will be forfeited.

TROPICO

The Tropico Bridge-Whist club held their regular meeting this week with Omar Richardson at the Glendale Hotel.

Guy Maxwell of Park avenue, has purchased an interest in the Morgan Dairy of this place and will hereafter act as manager of the company.

The Diamond Market at 708 West Fourth Street has added a meat department to its other lines where first-class meats can be secured at any time.

Electric Supplies and Wiring, M. & M. Furniture Co., 314 Brand Blvd.

The local K. of P. lodge will work the first and second rank at their regular meeting in their hall next Monday evening. A cordial invitation is extended to attend.

The Knights of Pythias lodge of this place gave a social dance in their hall on San Fernando road last night. The affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all those attending.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Darrow, who are passing some time at Ocean Park, were guests early this week of Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., at their home on Tropico avenue.

The Civic League of Tropico will meet Thursday, March 28, at 3:15 p. m. at the school house. Mr. Rice Ray will speak on "Ten Years of American Politics."

At the coming election at this place the board will consist of Mrs. Hattie Peters, Wesley H. Bullis, Mrs. Frances Gleason, Lou Hoffman, Don Erickson and E. L. Young.

From a communication received recently from Ralph Rogers by the local trustees, it is learned that the bonded indebtedness of the Consolidated Water Company is $5,500,000.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen is another lodge which will soon be started at this place. The organization will be formed within a few days. Paul E. Gilmore is the local organizer of the society.

The Diamond Fruit Market will hereafter be known as the DIAMOND MARKET, and is located at 708 West Fourth Street (formerly City Hall), where will be found a large and varied stock of fruits, vegetables and meats.

The property belonging to Jesse Dutton at the corner of Brand boulevard and Laurel street has been purchased by A. P. Stone, who with his family, has already taken possession of the place.

Rev. M. M. Eshelman, well known here, has departed for Ashton, Oregon, where he will remain permanently. Mr. Eshelman traded his property here for the land in the northern country owned by R. L. Boon, who will move to this place.

Talking about secret orders in Tropico, we might mention that the Royal Court lodge, which was organized here some time ago, has gone out of business. Although the membership was quite large the lodge has been on the downward road since the first grand opening, and this week saw its finish.

The real building operations of the Pacific Home Builders started Monday morning in the new tract recently purchased by that company at this place. Thousands of feet of lumber and other building material has arrived at the scene of action and things are moving along merrily.

Saturday evening the La Halle Temple No. 122 of Pythias sisters of Tropico was organized with a charter membership of eighty-one. Grand Chief Cora Landreke of Oakland, did the installing. The work was certified by the Los Angeles Temple No. 7. Other officers represented were Garvanza, Purty and Monica.

James A. West, formerly of this place, but for the past several years a resident of the mining districts, died at the home of Mrs. Bacon on Wilkinson Court, Monday evening. Mr. West was 65 years of age at the time of death. The remains are now at the Pulliam Undertaking company of Glendale, from which place the funeral will take place.

A shipment of five carloads of lumber has been received at the Southern Pacific station at this place, for use in the construction of ten homes to be erected at once in the Richardson tract. This is only the first installment of building material to be sent to this place for use. In this tract seven homes will be started at once on Gardens avenue and one on Carritos and two on Mira Loma street.

Preliminary work is being done on the Tracy estate at the west end of Park avenue. Following this work the tract will be put into shape for subdivision and the lots placed on the market. The property lies on the first bench east of the Los Angeles river and is really a part of the river bottom. The descent from the west end of Park avenue to the Tracy property is over a high bank. This bank will be sloped away to the river from the end of Park avenue and the river crossed over rustic bridges.

TROPICO METHODIST NOTES.

Rev. Carnes will preach at both morning and evening services next Sunday. The subjects will be: Morning, "Aaron's Excuse;" evening, "Overcoming Faith."

A banquet will be held in the church this (Friday) evening by the Red and the Blue teams of the Sunday school. A short program will be held, after which games will be played and refreshments will be served.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of this church met at the home of Mrs. Latta on Boynton street, yesterday afternoon. This meeting was postponed from last Thursday.

HOME BUILDERS ARE ACTIVE.

Fourteen new homes were started this week in the Richardson tract. The tract resembles a lumber yard, the piles of lumber and other building material being numerous. These homes will be of the finest order, ranging from $2000 to $3500 each. Work on each of the structures will be rushed to completion and in most instances the residences will be occupied by the parties building them. In the new tract purchased recently by a building company of Los Angeles, just across the Pacific Electric track from the Richardson tract, ten new homes are in course of construction. These, it is understood, are being put up by the building company and will be offered for sale. It is claimed that a number of those purchasing lots in this tract and contemplating building on their holdings in the near future. Altogether it looks as if there is something doing in the building line at this place. And there are more to come.

POOL ROOM QUESTION.

The pool room question in this city is raising quite a bit of discussion at this time. A number of the local residents claim that the board of trustees has been allowing the pool room to operate contrary to the wishes of the people of the place, and after considerable discussion, the board has decided to let the people say what they want in the matter. In this connection the following resolution was adopted by the chamber of commerce at their recent meeting: "Whereas, a large number of our fellow citizens sincerely believe that the best interests of the community would be served by the closing of the pool room now running in our city and the prohibition of any other from becoming established here; and, Whereas, Many others of our fellow citizens do not concur in this view of the matter, but believe it better to permit the running of such an establishment under proper regulation. Therefore, We respectfully petition your honorable body to submit the question of a pool room or no pool room to the electors of the city to be voted on at the coming city election."

On the strength of this resolution the city attorney has been instructed to prepare an ordinance prohibiting the licensing of pool rooms in the city of Tropico, for submission to the vote of the electors and electrices of said city, for adoption or rejection.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter, who have been making their home with their daughter and family, Mrs. Miller, 1501 Ivy street, will leave in a few days for their eastern home, where they expect to dispose of their property there.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Glover entertained a number of friends and relatives at their home on Sunday. They will go by auto lately purchased by Mr. Dale, on one of his trips to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Anderson of Piedmont, Oakland, who has been spending the past ten days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hyatt of West Fourth street, has returned home. While here Mrs. Anderson had her little daughter in the Glendale Sanitarium under the care of Dr. Rand. The little one improved rapidly, and was able to return with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Brockman and children of Los Angeles enjoyed an auto ride through Eagle Rock, stopping at the home of Mrs. Brockman's brother, Mr. P. Glenn, and taking a peek at the only baby in the valley. Little Madeline Glenn, who arrived a few weeks ago. They returned home by the way of Glendale, stopping with Mrs. Elliott for a short time.

Those present were: Tressa Kerna, Willa May Hobbs, Margaret La Comb, Mary Rogers, Helen McMullen, Freda Baker, Lucile Woods, Helen Conroy, Vernie Hackbarth, Bessie Ross, Mildred Elliott, Irene Jones, Olive Mackey, Elizabeth Bullard, Mrs. J. E. Henderson, Miss Midcalf.

DEATH OF MR. A. E. VOLKER.

After an illness of short duration, Mr. A. E. Volker died at his home in West Glendale, Sunday morning, March 17, 1912. The past summer, Mr. Volker met with a very serious accident on the railroad near Tropico, and for many weeks he was in a very precarious condition, but during the past few months has been enjoying very good health until about a week or so ago, when his mind suddenly gave way, and he grew steadily worse until he passed away. He leaves a widow and two small daughters.

Funeral services were held at the house on Tuesday, March 19th, and was attended by a large number of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Volker having resided in Glendale for a number of years, were well known. Rev. Ward of the Presbyterian church, had charge of the services, and delivered a very beautiful sermon. There were a number of floral offerings from friends and neighbors, and members of the Presbyterian church rendered sweet music.

Burial took place in Grand View cemetery, Burbank. Pulliam Undertaking company had charge of the funeral.

Mrs. Volker has the sympathy of a host of friends, having lost besides her husband, a baby just a few months ago.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. A. E. Volker desires to thank her many friends and acquaintances and the Rev. S. L. Ward and members of the Presbyterian church, for the kindness and sympathy shown her, in her recent bereavement in the death of her husband and baby.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

Sixth Week, "The Girl and the Boy." The sixth week of "The Girl and the Boy," Walter De Leon's new and best musical comedy, in which the Hartman and his clever associates have scored such a pronounced hit, will begin at the Grand Opera house on next Sunday afternoon and the tremendous interest already aroused and the wonderful business which this record play is doing will no doubt be increased. The fifteenth performance will be attained next Saturday at the matinee, which is in itself a remarkable record. It is being looked upon as though "The Girl and the Boy" will run merrily on its way until the century mark is reached as regards the number of performances. The public seems unable to get enough of Mr. de Leon's amusement efforts. First it was "The Campus," which by running for 212 performances, broke every known stock record. Now it is "The Girl and the Boy," which has caught the public favor and bids fair to break even the run of "The Campus."

When any stock offering is presented in the same theater by the same company for more than a single week, theatrical men begin to figure on reasons for the unusual event. But when that attraction continues to play to capacity houses for five weeks, the wisecracks throw up their hands and declare that either the play must be absolutely unique or else it has stamped the public. Whatever the reason for the wonderful success of "The Girl and the Boy," the run is a fact and all indications are that the sixth week will be the banner one in point of attendance.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.

Our meeting held in R. W. Meeker's spacious and beautifully decorated home last Friday afternoon, March 15, was a success in every way, thirty ladies being present, who listened with delight to the reports given by officers of the marvelous work done by this society in the past year. The most to be proud over was the fact that of 6,000 suffrage leaflets and the work done for man's enfranchisement, the petitions circulated early in July by the president and secretary against granting a hotel license to the Casa Verdugo Restaurant, which, with over 440 signatures, won the day, and the production of the cantata "Queen Esther," which was productive of a financial nest egg toward a lot and building of our own. We hope to be helped by the citizens to add to that small beginning as we wait the day to have some way to entertain you or sell something for you. After the meeting was closed we adjourned to the dining room, where, under shaded lights and a profusion of pepper boughs and Marguerites, we were daintily served with a bountiful lunch prepared by our hostess. The proceeds from this tea were $5; two members gained, and more in sight. As we wended our way home we felt we had indeed passed a pleasant and profitable afternoon in the work of our Master.

The next meeting will be a parlor meeting, March 20, with Mrs. Alice Ayers, 207 Cedar street, when each one will give "experiences in the life of each member as a temperance worker. Try and put no obstacle in the way of this meeting, please."

We hope all Glendale will prepare themselves for the ballot on April 8, and vote against a pool room in our fair city, as Rev. Mr. Edmunds said at this service he wanted the Christian people to fall in line and stand for clean town, and snow this pool room under the carpet that it will never come to the top again. Our boys and girls need protection, and it is now a mother's privilege to go to the ballot box and say by her vote whether she wants her boy ruined or not, for a pool room is the entering wedge or first step. Later the saloon takes its place. We have grown without either. It is the remark of many that they came here to live because our town is so clean and free from vice. We have grown in six years from 600 to 8,000 population, have the best streets in any suburb, and no grass growing on them, either. We will still grow, and do not need pool rooms or table liquor licensed hotels to make us grow.

MRS. HATTIE E. GAYLORD, President.

"Rebecca's Triumph"

The play, "Rebecca's Triumph," under the direction of Mrs. Cora Belle Howe will be given the evenings of March 26 and 27 at Filger's Opera house. The play is given under the auspices of the building and lands committee of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and many prominent members of the club and a large number of the high school girls are in the cast. Mrs. William Elmer Evans takes the role of Rebecca. The proceeds of the play will go toward the purchase of a lot for a club house. Mrs. A. W. Tower, chairman of the building and lands committee, and her committee deem it advisable to secure a lot soon owing to the rapid advance in the value of Glendale real estate.

MEN'S BROTHERHOOD TO BE RE-ORGANIZED IN THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

A small but very enthusiastic meeting was held in the church on Friday, March 15. Plans were made to give a banquet in the church kitchen on Monday, March 25, and extend a cordial invitation to all the men of the church. A speaker is to be out from Los Angeles, and a splendid time is looked forward to. In its previous organization the Men's Brotherhood was probably the most active branch of the church, and results are promised after they are fully organized.

DOUBLE WEDDING ANNIVERSARY.

Two happy married couples who were married on the same day (the ladies being sisters) 18 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hoffman, celebrated the event Sunday last by partaking with a number of friends and relatives of a special dinner prepared by Mrs. Shaw, the well-known caterer on Glendale avenue. The dining room was beautifully and appropriately decorated for the occasion with trimmings of maiden hair ferns, pink and white carnations. The afternoon was greatly enjoyed by all, one of the best features being music, instrumental and vocal. In addition to the couples honored there were present the following: Mr. and Mrs. Philip Laighinger and Russell Laighinger of Garvanza; Rev. M. F. Rinker of Los Angeles; Miss Johnson, Miss F. Wanamacher, Miss Alice and Evelyn Hoffman, Carl Howard, Gilbert, George and Raymond Anderson of Glendale.

WORTH WHILE CLUB.

At the regular meeting of the Worth While Club, Monday evening, March 11, which was held at the home of Miss Alva Sinclair on Sinclair avenue, the following officers were elected: President, Miss Masie Black; vice president, Miss Monica Smith; secretary, Miss Marie Campbell; treasurer, Miss Zada Sprinkle; press correspondent, Miss Ethel Porter; chairman of the program committee, Miss Vera Holloway; chairman of the visiting committee, Miss Belle Lyons; chairman of the social committee, Miss Bessie Field. After the election of officers a Chopin program was enjoyed, with Miss Holloway as leader. Papers on the life and character of Chopin were read and several vocal and instrumental numbers were given. Dainty refreshments were then served, after which the club adjourned to meet March 25, with Miss Sprinkle on East Fifth street.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN THE EVENING.

A prettily appointed bridge party was given Friday evening in honor of St. Patrick's day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Pulliam, at 148 Kenwood street. The parlors were speedily attractive with long festoons of shamrocks and ferns. Immense shower bouquets of jonquils made a contrasting touch of color. Irish favors of every kind were cleverly matched by hand-painted score cards by means of which partners and tables were found. Handsome prizes were awarded to Mrs. E. F. Tholen and Mr. Alexander Mitchell. Consolation prizes went to Mrs. Leon H. Hurtt and Mr. W. W. McElroy.

A dainty supper was served in two courses by Miss Myrtle and Miss Emma Pulliam, every detail carrying out the idea of decoration. Twenty-eight guests were entertained, many of whom were out-of-town visitors. Mrs. Pulliam was assisted by Mrs. William Austin of Los Angeles.

THE JULIUS KRAZ CONCERT.

The high school auditorium was well filled Saturday evening with a cultured and appreciative audience gathered to do honor to the talented young violinist and to enjoy as they did a delightful musical program. Mr. Kraz has gained much in confidence during the past few months and carried himself in a manner befitting an experienced professional.

The first number on the program, Concerto in G Minor, was a long and difficult selection which was given in a manner showing proficiency in memorizing, as well as fine skill in performance. His playing throughout the program was all that could be desired and every number was heartily applauded. Mr. Kraz showed excellent judgment in his choice of assistants. Miss Grace M. Jones, soprano, had not been heard in Glendale before, but sang with such purity of tone that she gave great pleasure to the audience. Mr. Will Garraway was also a stranger to a Glendale audience, but he proved himself to be an ideal accompanist. The program was as follows:

Concerto in G Minor, Bruch. Vocal. Prelude "Cycle of Life," Bonald. Meditation from Thais, Massenet. Ave Maria, Schubert-Wilhelmy. Swan Song, Ethel Barnes. Vocal, "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair," Awakening, Mason. Ecstasy, Rummel. Serenade, Schubert-Remenyl. Schon Rosmarin, Kreisler.

P. E. O. ELECTS OFFICERS.

Wednesday, March 13th, was a day of business and pleasure combined for Chapter L. P. E. O. The meeting was held in the handsome new home of a charter member, Mrs. R. D. Goss, on Fifth street, and was something of the nature of a house-warming, with pleasing accessories of margarites, daffodils and spring sunshine.

During the morning session reports of the fiscal year were given showing the splendid growth and financial standing of the chapter under the presidency of Mrs. Edith Hunchberger, who has worked faithfully and most successfully in placing the chapter in its present flourishing condition.

Mrs. Hunchberger takes this opportunity to thank her efficient officers who so tactfully and faithfully assisted her in her persistent efforts for the growth of the society and the establishment of a growing fund for use

BUSINESS CHANGES.

The Diamond-Fruit Market moves into the old city hall room, 708 West Fourth street, and will be known hereafter as the "Diamond Market." The interest of J. V. Adams in Newberry's Grocery, corner Fourth and Maryland, has been sold to W. H. Crane and E. A. McGee, who are now in charge. Both have been many years in the grocery business in the East.
